The Molina Story

While working as an emergency room physician, Dr. C. David Molina saw a need to change how the health care system cared for people on a budget. Dr. Molina believed that every patient should be cared for like family.

In 1980, he opened a community clinic where caring for people was more important than their ability to pay.

Today, the legacy of Dr. Molina lives on through Molina Healthcare, a company that cares for more than 3.5 million members in 15 states. Serving people with Medicare, Medicaid, and Marketplace, Molina Healthcare remains true to Dr. Molina's convictions:

treating each person like a member of the family
